

Our Services

Our agents understand Risk Management, therefore our agents understand construction. We also understand that with great risk comes great responsibility. We know that keeping employees and the community safe while protecting the reputation of your construction company is key.

There are many types of risks that can threaten the success of your construction project and business. These risks range from contractual needs to environmental exposures, to construction site security and safety. CIMXag will work with you to uncover possible dangers others may have missed and provide construction insurance policies that will help you get ahead of risks.

Our products and services for your construction needs are specifically designed to consider and understand a contractor's Risk Management.

CONSTRUCTION INSURANCE

From bidding on and completing construction jobs to hiring and training employees in an increasingly hard-to-find labor work force, contractors face demanding and complex challenges as they strive to build and maintain successful businesses.
